Invitations to Comment SPR06-11

Title	Application for Emergency Protective Order (revise form EPO-001)
Summary	The Application for Emergency Protective Order (form EPO-001) is used by law enforcement to ask a court for emergency protective orders in cases involving domestic violence, child abuse, elder or dependent adult abuse, or stalking. The form would be revised to reflect recent statutory changes and to add a place for the court's fax number.

Discussion	Three changes would be made to the Application for Emergency Protective Order (form EPO-001), a form used by law enforcement to ask a court for emergency protective orders. First, the list of prohibited actions in item 9 of the form would be expanded to prohibit a restrained person from taking "any action to obtain the address or location" of each person to be protected. This language implements Assembly Bill 978 (Runner), which added new sections to several statutes prohibiting restrained persons "from taking any action to obtain the address or location of a protected party or a protected party's family members, caretakers, or guardian, unless there is good cause not to make that order." (See Code Civ. Proc., § 527.10, Fam. Code, §§ 6252.5 and 6322.7, Pen. Code, §§ 136.3 and 646.91A, Welfare &amp; Inst. Code, § 15657.04.) The new code sections apply directly to the emergency protective orders for which form EPO-001 is used. (See Family Code, § 6252.5 and Pen. Code, § 646.91A.) So item 9 on form EPO-001 would be revised to include the new prohibitions provided for in the statutes. Second, the last sentence on the bottom of page 2 of the form would be changed to state: "This order takes precedence in enforcement over any less restrictive conflicting civil court order between the same parties." This language will inform law enforcement and others about the provision in new subdivision (c) of Penal Code section 136.2 added by Assembly Bill 112 (Cohen). Third, to improve the effectiveness of the order, a new sentence would be added to the notice to law enforcement on page 2 of the form: “The officer who obtains and completes this order must fax it immediately to the court at (fax number): (     ) _____ regardless of whether the restrained person has been served.” Providing this instruction together with the court’s fax number should result in orders being entered more promptly into CLETS, thereby notifying law enforcement of the existence of the emergency protective order.

Fourth, at the bottom of page 2, the sentence “This order shall expire at the date and time specified in item 12 on the reverse” would replace “This order shall expire not later than the close of judicial business on the fifth day of judicial business or the seventh calendar day following the day of its issue.” The proposed new language should be clearer and easier for persons given copies of the order to understand.
